SUBJECT: Computer Security Subcommittee Meeting [REDACTED]

1. I represented the SECOM staff at the 10 January 1980 meeting of the Computer Security Subcommittee, held at the Langley Headquarters Building. [REDACTED] Chairman, presided. Copies of the minutes of the previous meeting were distributed (attached). [REDACTED]

2. [REDACTED] and I provided background information on his designation as an observer on the computer security working group of the National Communications Security Committee (NCSC). He advised that he knew of nothing done to this date to fix the membership of this working group. [REDACTED]

3. The DIA member [REDACTED] distributed his agency's comments (attached) on the pending revision of DCID 1/16. He said DIA was increasingly concerned with costs and other problems associated with ADP security in industry. He suggested DIA willingness to divide the country into areas of executive agent responsibility for industrial security inspections. I said, and [REDACTED] agreed, that Community development of uniform standards was an essential prerequisite to the success of any such approach to industrial security. [REDACTED] said he planned to speak at the 30 January SECOM meeting to the desirability of executive agent arrangements by area for industrial security in ADP matters. Several members said they thought the revised 1/16 should be issued at the unclassified level. Other comments addressed the desirability of having the revision use broad vice specific language to permit flexibility in adapting to new technology or changed circumstances. [REDACTED] asked that any proposed use in the Community of new technology in this context be subject to subcommittee approval. [REDACTED] (NSA retiree under contract to do strawman draft of 1/16) summarized his wishes on how the revision effort should proceed. [REDACTED] asked DIA to designate a representative to work with [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] CIA, on the strawman draft, beginning in early February 1980. [REDACTED]

5. [REDACTED] request, discussed his understanding of the impact of the [REDACTED] [REDACTED] suggested that the revision effort on 1/16 be deferred until [REDACTED] was better understood. [REDACTED] demurred, and said there was much that could be done on the directive's update on a "fill in the blanks later" basis with regard to [REDACTED] applications. A majority of the members said they would like to see the [REDACTED] audio-visual presentation being prepared as a briefing aid. [REDACTED] and I agreed to try to locate a copy for showing at the next subcommittee meeting. [REDACTED]
